WEEKLY MUSINGS

Today's second reading is from one of the earliest books of the New Testament, Paul's letter to the conflict-ridden church in Corinth. It starts

Now there are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit; and there are varieties of services, but the same Lord; and there are varieties of activities, but it is the same God who activates all of them in everyone.

Paul reminds us that each of us has gifts, and each of us can serve God in our own unique way, but in this variety, there is the same motivation, and it is God who activates all of our gifts and activities. As I read these verses I thought of – and gave thanks for – the many ministries of this parish, some of which build us up as community, some of which boost others outside our community.

Everyone has been under pressure of late because of the resurgence of Covid, the dreaded omicron variant has led to a rapid escalation of cases, leading to many more people in isolation.

All of this makes our ministry of caring for each other more important. We all have gifts in this regard – caring for others in the parish is not the preserve of the pastoral care team – it is something we can all do. We should all be on the lookout for who is not in their usual place. Give them a call to check-in – this will always be welcome and helps build us up as a community. Pray for them, that we and others may be with them as they struggle, especially if they have been infected.

We can all be agents of how God's miraculous powers work – just as the servants at the wedding at Cana listened to Jesus and followed His instructions, we need to still our hearts, keep our eyes and ears open to who might need our support, and be God's agent in providing that care.

FIRST READING

Isaiah 62.1-5

The Lord says this: “For Zion’s sake I will not keep silent, and for Jerusalem’s sake I will not rest, until her vindication shines out like the dawn, and her salvation like a burning torch. “The nations shall see your vindication, and all the kings your glory; and you shall be called by a new name that the mouth of the Lord will give. You shall be a crown of beauty in the hand of the Lord, and a royal diadem in the hand of your God. “You shall no more be termed ‘Forsaken,’ and your land shall no more be termed ‘Desolate’; but you shall be called ‘My Delight Is in Her,’ and your land ‘Married’; for the Lord delights in you, and your land shall be married. “For as a young man marries a young woman, so shall your builder marry you, and as the bridegroom rejoices over the bride, so shall your God rejoice over you.”

Hear the word of the Lord. Thanks be to God.

PSALM 96

Plainsong New - G. Cox

For great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised;
he is to be revered above all gods. R.

Worship the Lord in holy splendour;
tremble before him, all the earth.
Say among the nations, "The Lord is king!
He will judge the peoples with equity." R.

SECOND READING chanted by the sub-deacon

1 CORINTHIANS 12.4-11

There are varieties of gifts, but the same Spirit; and there are varieties of services, but the same Lord; and there are varieties of activities, but it is the same God who activates all of them in everyone. To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good. To one is given through the Spirit the utterance of wisdom, and to another the utterance of knowledge according to the same Spirit, to another faith by the same Spirit, to another gifts of healing by the one Spirit, to another the working of miracles, to another prophecy, to another the discernment of spirits, to another various kinds of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues. All these are activated by one and the same Spirit, who allots to each one individually just as the Spirit chooses.

Hear the word of the Lord. Thanks be to God.

THE GOSPEL

The Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ according to John (2.1 - 12)

+ Glory to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

There was a wedding in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jesus was there. Jesus and his disciples had also been invited to the wedding. When the wine gave out, the mother of Jesus said to him, “They have no wine.” And Jesus said to her, “Woman, what concern is that to you and to me? My hour has not yet come.” His mother said to the servants, “Do whatever he tells you.” Now standing there were six stone water jars for the Jewish rites of purification, each holding about a hundred litres. Jesus said to the servants, “Fill the jars with water.” And they filled them up to the brim. He said to them, “Now draw some out, and take it to the chief steward.” So they took it. When the steward tasted the water that had become wine, and did not know where it came from (though the servants who had drawn the water knew), the steward called the bridegroom and said to him, “Everyone serves the good wine first, and then the inferior wine after the guests have become drunk. But you have kept the good wine until now.” Jesus did this, the first of his signs, in Cana of Galilee, and revealed his glory; and his disciples believed in him. After this he went down to Capernaum with his mother, his brothers, and his disciples; and they remained there a few days.

This is the Gospel of the Lord. Praise to you Lord Jesus Christ

eternal light of the earth and the heavens,
we break the silence of the peaceful night:
divine Saviour, bestow your eyes upon us!*

*Lay upon us the fire of your mighty grace,
that all hell may flee the sound of your voice;
banish the slumber of a languishing soul,
which makes it forgetful of your laws!*

may they return laden with your gifts.*

Dear Parishioners at St. Peters,

As some of you know, I will be leaving my position as Parish Administrator. I am about to embark on my second Masters of Music and I will have to travel substantially this year to maintain my USA residency status, which has been interrupted significantly with borders being closed. All these reasons accumulatively have led to me being unable to continue with the position this year

My last working day is on January 14th. However, I will remain at the parish in the choir as an Alto Scholar, so there's no need to say goodbye. I do want to thank everybody who has made working at St. Peter's so wonderful these last few months. In particular, to Alae Taule'alo who was wonderfully helpful during our busiest periods and Daniel Ferguson who has been incredibly supportive of my role here. And to everyone else who has made working here such a a delight. Thank you very much. I leave you in the very capable hands of Adrian Chong, our new Parish Administrator.

Shanti Michael

Hello everyone!

Following on from Shanti's introduction, my name is Adrian and I'm very excited to join St. Peter's after returning from working in Cambodia for 6 years. I'm a business transformation consultant having worked with the UN as well as many enterprises in Phnom Pehn. Originally from Sydney, Melbourne has been home since 2020 and I'm resettling again after my travels. In another life I was a pastry chef with the Roux Brothers in London and Paris and still enjoy cooking and epicurean delights! I will be studying a Masters in Secondary Teaching while championing St Peter's in my role as parish administrator. I have been attending St. Peter's sporadically during Covid but look forward to getting to know you better!

A People's Tragedy: Studies in Reformation by Eamon Duffy

$43 (Hardback)

By minute research into late medieval religious practice, Duffy has already demonstrated beyond dispute that popular religious practice on the eve of the Reformation was alive, indeed vibrant.

He pursues these themes again in this book. And now he also introduces the readers to a whole lot of new research, some of it archaeological, to demonstrate his point. Wall paintings, parish records, wood carvings, triptychs which show the true nature of medieval devotion. The detail is absolutely fascinating and shows the best of historical research. Walsingham, York Minster and Ely Abbey are among the places described.
