THE LITURGY OF THE WORD

A reading from the Acts of the Apostles Acts 7.55-60

Standing before the high priest and the council, Stephen, filled with the Holy Spirit, gazed into heaven and saw the glory of God and Jesus standing at the right hand of God. "Look," he said, "I see the heavens opened and the Son of Man standing at the right hand of God!" But they covered their ears, and with a loud shout all rushed together against him. Then they dragged him out of the city and began to stone him; and the witnesses laid their coats at the feet of a young man named Saul. While they were stoning Stephen, he prayed, "Lord Jesus, receive my spirit." Then he knelt down and cried out in a loud voice, "Lord, do not hold this sin against them." When he had said this, he died.

Hear the word of the Lord. Thanks be to God.

PSALM: 97

led by the Cantor. Please join in the Response.

The Lord is king! Let the earth rejoice;
let the many coastlands be glad!
Clouds and thick darkness are all around him;
righteousness and justice are the foundation of his throne. R.

The heavens proclaim his righteousness;
and all the peoples behold his glory.
All worshippers of images are put to shame;
all gods bow down before him. R.

For you, O Lord, are most high over all the earth;
you are exalted far above all gods.
Light dawns for the righteous,
and joy for the upright in heart. R.

THE EPISTLE: chanted by the sub-deacon

A reading from the Book of Revelations 22.12-14, 16-17, 20

I, John, heard a voice saying to me: “See, I am coming soon; my reward is with me, to repay according to everyone’s work. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end.” Blessed are those who wash their robes, so that they will have the right to the tree of life and may enter the city by the gates. “It is I, Jesus, who sent my angel to you with this testimony for the churches. I am the root and the descendant of David, the bright morning star.” The Spirit and the bride say, “Come.” And let everyone who hears say, “Come.” And let everyone who is thirsty come. Let anyone who wishes take the water of life as a gift. The one who testifies to these things says, “Surely I am coming soon.” Amen. Come, Lord Jesus!

Hear the word of the Lord. Thanks be to God.

LESSER ALLEUIA

Alleluia, alleluia. Regnabit Dóminus super omnes gentes: Deus sedet super sedem sanctam suam.

Alleluia, alleluia. The Lord is King over all the nations; God sits on his holy throne.

Please stand.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Deacon:

The Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ according to John 17.20-26

✠ Glory to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

Jesus looked up to heaven and prayed: “Holy Father, I ask not only on behalf of these, but also on behalf of those who will believe in me through their word, that they may all be one. As you, Father, are in me and I am in you, may they also be in us, so that the world may believe that you have sent me. The glory that you have given me I have given them, so that they may be one, as we are one, I in them and you in me, that they may become completely one, so that the world may know that you have sent me and have loved them even as you have loved me. “Father, I desire that those also, whom you have given me, may be with me where I am, to see my glory, which you have given me because you loved me before the foundation of the world. “Righteous Father, the world does not know you, but I know you; and these know that you have sent me. I made your name known to them, and I will make it known, so that the love with which you have loved me may be in them, and I in them.”

This is the Gospel of the Lord. Praise to you Lord Jesus Christ.

Please be seated for the Homily.

Please stand for the Creed.

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

Pater, cum essem cum eis, ego servábam eos, quos dedísti mihi, alleluia: nunc autem ad te vénio: non rogo, ut tollas eos de mundo, sed ut serves eos a malo, alleluia, alleluia.

Father, when I was amongst them, I kept those whom you had given me, alleluia; but now I am coming to you; I do not ask you to take them out of the world, but to keep them from evil, alleluia, alleluia.

Communicant members of any Christian church are invited to receive the sacrament. All others are very welcome to come forward for a blessing.

At the conclusion of the communion of the people, there is a time of silent prayer.

COMMUNION MOTET Gibbons: O clap your hands

O clap your hands together, all ye people; O sing unto God with the voice of melody.

For the Lord is high, and to be feared; he is the great king of all the earth.

He shall subdue the people under us, and the nations under our feet.

He shall choose out an heritage for us, even the worship of Jacob, whom he loved.

God is gone up with a merry noise, and the Lord with the sound of the trumpet.

O sing praises unto our God: O sing praises unto the Lord our king.

For God is the king of all the earth: sing ye praises with the understanding.

God reigneth over the heathen: God sitteth upon his holy seat.

For God, which is highly exalted, doth defend the earth, as it were with a shield.

Glory be to the Father, and to the Son: and to the Holy Ghost.

As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be: world without end. Amen.

(Psalm 47, omitting verse 9a)

Please stand for the post-communion hymn.

NEH: 120 Thine Be the Glory

WEEKLY MUSINGS

Ho hum. What do we talk about now the election is over? Maybe we should look at the Church calendar and think about what it calls us to reflect on?

This week is the National Week of Prayer for Reconciliation, book ended by 27 May, the 55th anniversary of the 1967 recognition referendum, and 3 June, the 30th anniversary of the handing down of the Marbo decision. Our prayer for recognition calls us to face up to our own racism, recognise the inequity faced by First Nations Australians today, and work towards reconciliation and giving First Nations Australians a voice. In his election night speech, new Prime Minister Albanese committed to action on the Uluru statement from the heart and committed that a Labor government will address these issues.

31 May is celebrated in the Church generally (but not with a special mass here) as the Visitation of Mary to Elizabeth, described in Luke 1:39-56. Elizabeth praises Mary saying 'Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb' (verse 42). As we know, Mary responds with the Magnificat, a mighty paean of praise, but also an agenda that signals the old order will be overturned.

The Visitation and the National Week of Prayer for Reconciliation is linked through Mary's hymn. The Magnificat is an agenda that we should be working towards always, by every means, in every forum we have. It is not a first century irrelevancy, but a call that we are to lift up the lowly (verse 52). And a warning that those who have proudly benefited from oppression, or indeed, turned a blind eye to it, will be cut down.

So this week I ask that you remember First Nations Australians in your prayers, and reflect on what more we, as members of our various communities, can do to progress justice for First Nations Australians. We also pray that we remember Mary's promises in the Magnificat and we work towards bringing them to reality.

Child Safe Standards and Diocesan Safe Ministry Documents

Safe Ministry is ever-changing and, as flagged in 2021, new Victorian Child Safe Standards have been released and organisations need to comply with these by 1st July 2022. Between now and June the Diocese's Safe Ministry Reference Group will be reviewing and editing the Diocese's safe ministry documents to ensure compliance. Updates will be reviewed and approved by Archbishop in Council before they are released to parishes by 1st July.

We would also remind parishes to update their safe ministry documents on their websites to the current Diocesan versions available at:

<http://www.melbourneanglican.org.au/making-your-parish-child-safe/>

Thank you again for your commitment to safe ministry in your parish and across our Diocese. Anne is available to assist and visit parishes as needed. Please contact safeministry@melbourneanglican.org.au for questions and assistance.

Recommended New Title:

A Journey From the Beginning: Creation Accounts in the Book of Genesis by Margaret Ghosn.

The opening chapters of the Book of Genesis, composed and developed within the living faith communities of ancient Israel, proclaim that God was the loving Creator of all things.

From the beginning, love was God's purpose, and those early stories are about how God's creatures, especially humanity, would respond to that loving purpose.

A Journey from the Beginning aptly describes Margaret Ghosn's approach. This is not an account of far-off origins; it is an interpretation of God's purposes for us today – how, by exploring in detail the texts of the first three chapters of Genesis, we may discover their message and meaning; and how they direct us in our life choices.

Like the original stories in Genesis, this book is written within a faith community that affirms the need for God in our world, the desire to include the Bible's creation accounts in our seeking to make sense of our lives and our world; and, above all, a desire to be faithful to the ancient covenant between God and Creation in all its complexity, wonder and beauty.
